TOO BIG FOR HER BRITCHES
COMES TO THE 2022 HOLLYWOOD FRINGE FESTIVAL

Hollywood, CA, April 12, 2022. Too Big for Her Britches, starring Lisa Pezik, is a one-woman musical dramedy, with original music and live piano accompaniment, described as a “must-see rollercoaster of emotions that’s expertly led with a balance of humor and darkness.”

Too Big for Her Britches centers around the battle between the main character, Luna’s, Inner Shame and inner Warriress. After a near miss of being wiped out by a transport truck, Luna questions everything about her life. Journey with her through heartbreak, bullying, eating disorders, mental health, generational trauma, narcissistic mothering, and finding her light as Lisa morphs into 25 characters and sings 7 original songs.

With a rise in mental health, Lisa wanted this show to be a life raft and a piece of healing and hope for the audience. Her end goal and motivation of taking this show to Broadway isn’t to “get rich and famous.” Rather the piece of art Lisa wished she had when she was struggling. The show’s goal is to fosters a sense of inclusion, self-love, and belonging in our own bodies and how we show up in the world.

With a successful world premiere at Solofest 2022 at the WhiteFire Theatre in Sherman Oaks, Lisa’s next stop is the Hollywood Fringe Festival, then Hamilton Ontario Fringe, and lastly the prestigious Off-Broadway run on 42nd St in New York City in the Fall 2022. Lisa will also be releasing the original score on Spotify later this year as it was highly requested from the audience.

Options for the visually and physical impaired, and those who identify as deaf and hard of hearing are available.
